During this next can't-miss edition of Spotlight, witness an open, honest conversation among renowned change-makers who have pioneered diversity and inclusion in their respective spaces.

Delving into past experiences and today's challenges, this panel discussion will inspire you to explore your own perspective and take a hard look at inclusion in your workplace. Now more than ever, this is one conversation you need to hear.

Join this trio of powerful visionaries for a candid conversation about diversity, inclusion, and how we can make real change in our lives and in the workplace.

"It's about winning people over and not winning over people."

- Dr. Bernice A. King
